information.

Dear Customer,

This time last year we were all very concerned about the effects the economic downturn might have on our businesses even though we knew that in the past, when the high street did badly, garden centres did well.

In fact, the 2008/09 season has been extremely successful as more people spend more time at home and put more money and effort into enjoying their gardens. At the same time the cost of stock from overseas nurseries has effectively increased by around 30% because of currency fluctuations, and there has been a move to sourcing plants more locally. Our own sales are up by almost 20%, and the Garden Centres Association report a 13% increase in plant sales for the year to September 2009.

Could I therefore thank you for your continued support and stress that we aim to continue our focus on delivering high quality plants and levels of service to match throughout 2009/10. The team and I look forward to seeing you on our travels and at the various shows we shall be attending, which are listed on page 6.

With all good wishes for a successful year ahead!

Mark Raymond

Garden Centre Sales Manager

Over 95% of the plants we produce for retail outlets are home-grown in Yorkshire for extra hardiness:
Great British plants for Great British gardens!

- Over 100 hectares in production at six specialist centres in Yorkshire growing and selling 10 million plants every year
- Increased production facilities for retail customers with a range of home-grown species specially grown for the British climate
- Attractive labels and barcode labelling

- Weekly availability list and trolley deals throughout the season available on-line
- Quality control and delivery systems to ensure that all plants arrive in peak condition
- Johnsons Xpress at Chobham in Surrey and Whixley in Yorkshire at which retailers can browse and buy on Cash and Carry terms

We have found that one of the things our customers value most is the investment we've made in highly trained staff and the right vehicles to enable them to show plant samples in a programmed series of sales visits.

At your service

Mark, Robert, Matt and Rachel are all trained horticulturists with, between them, many years experience of working with garden centre customers.

Mark Reynard travels widely to see customers in Scotland, and also takes care of key national accounts.

Robert visits customers in the North of England, whilst Matt, based at our centre of operations at Chobham in Surrey visits customers in the South.

When Rachel is not visiting customers local to Whixley, she is always on hand at the office.

All four are happy to talk to you at any time.

Making our commitment to environmental standards

- Johnsons of Whixley has successfully achieved ISO 14001 Environmental Management System accreditation.
- Company policies focus on reduced environmental impact through the intelligent and responsible use of technology, the efficient use of internal and external transport, water, energy, and the reduction of waste in all forms. Contributing directly to a wide range of research and development programmes, we take advantage of the latest advances to implement environmentally friendly techniques and opportunities, particularly in the reduced use of water, peat, and chemicals for pest control purposes.
- Packing materials are reused when possible, and wooden or card packing materials are from sustainable sources. All activities on site are reviewed to ensure that polluting activities in relation to plant production, distribution, and site management are minimised, and general working procedures attempt to limit the wasteful use of all resources. A conscious effort is made to limit the impact of the company on neighbours and the surrounding environment.
- We recycle waste and are actively involved in efforts to reduce the peat content of growing compost. Similar work continues in relation to the use of water and alternatives to chemical pest control.
- Our reasons for doing so stem as much from our tradition as nurserymen as from a recognition that we have a responsibility to ensure that we manage and audit the way the business impacts on the environment.
- An Environmental Management System will provide a framework to help us manage our environmental responsibilities so that they become more efficient and more integrated into our overall operations.

- This framework will also ensure that we can understand, describe and control our most significant impacts on the environment, reduce the risk of pollution incidents, ensure compliance with environmental legislation and continually improve our business operations.
- Central to the process will be the reduction of waste and costs – benefits which will be felt by our customers as our prices continue to be competitive.

A green business getting greener in a changing world

- Our plants make a positive contribution to the environment by improving the surroundings in which we live and work, both aesthetically and as a means of reducing carbon dioxide, pollutants, noise, water run-off and wind-speed, whilst at the same time providing summer shade and a comprehensive and natural wild-life habitat. Every year we grow 10 million premium quality plants for use in the public realm and private gardens.
- Of this total almost 5 million are hedging plants including Thorn, Holly, Dog Roses, Blackthorn and Hazel. This would create a green corridor to stretch both sides of the A1 between London and Edinburgh – every single year. Just think of the thousands of wildlife habitats that creates.
- On top of this we grow almost ½ million Birch Trees and 1 million Oaks (which can live up to 1000 years in the UK) ¼ million Scots Pine and 25,000 Yew – all varieties which, in addition to providing food and shelter for wildlife, lock up harmful carbon gases.
